What does Cleveland, North Yorkshire & South Durham Family History Society offer?

- CFHS was formed in 1980 and is a member of the Federation of Family History Societies. It works in co-operation with its neighbours, the Northumberland & Durham Family History Society and with all the Yorkshire Family History Societies. The geographical area covered is the former Cleveland County and the surrounding areas of Northern Yorkshire and Southern Durham. (See map on front of form).
- CFHS aims to encourage and support interest in genealogy and family history.
- We hold meetings with talks, presentations or members' evenings throughout the year in various locations, including HARTLEPOOL, SEDGEFIELD and UPPER DALES. In addition one day conferences, study days, and workshops, are arranged to interest both newcomers and seasoned researchers.
- There are experienced people with local knowledge to guide you and help with any queries you may have.
- Journals are published quarterly that include articles of local interest, news items, details of future CFHS meetings, courses and conferences, reviews of new publications and 'Help Wanted' and 'Help Offered', where members can have their enquiries published and offer information that might assist others.
- CFHS volunteers have helped to produce many publications that could help you with research. These include indexed transcripts of some Parish Registers from our area, and monumental inscriptions for over 300 parishes. These are available for sale as paper copies or CDs. We also have a burials database for our area.
- Upon receipt of your application and payment you will be sent a Welcome Pack giving comprehensive guidance on how to find your ancestors, together with the Society list of Publications & CDs.
